

BIO•PROTECTION™ DELIVERS WORRY FREE DISPENSING

Current personal health care concerns provide significant challenges world wide. New strains of influenza viruses seem to permeate the news media causing everyone to re-think personal habits and actions on a daily basis.

The workplace specifically presents one of the biggest concerns for everybody. First of all, you must work to make a living. Secondly, this is where the highest potential for exposure to cold and flu conditions exist.

We've all seen the co-worker coughing or sneezing and wondering, is it just a cold or something more sinister.

bio^{pro}tection™

Pure Water Technology® integrates a patented and proprietary technology called bio-protection.™ This multi-stage process removes sediment, organic chemicals, and bacteria. The electronic water delivery ports with silver ion technology are designed to provide contamination free dispensing. This unique technology keeps hands away from the dispensing port to further reduce the potential for contamination.

No other system on the planet can provide you with safer, pure and fresh drinking water in the workplace. Ask your Pure Water Technology representative about our free trial program today!
